

Campden Conservation Trust Report 2021

The Conservation Trust Fund (CCTF) has seen some changes to the Trustees during the year.

Very sadly James Bell our treasurer died during lockdown, he was a founder Trustee and a stalwart of the Trust and the Campden Society where he held positions as secretary and treasurer. We much miss his wisdom and sense of humour.

Katharine Davis, also a founder Trustee and secretary, has recently retired from her position. Katharine has helped to guide the Trust over many years always providing accurate records of our meetings and ensuring that all legal aspects of the Trust have been correctly adhered to, I would like to thank Katharine for all her work over the many years.

We are very pleased to welcome Alex O'Donnell who has taken over as secretary, and of course we were delighted to welcome your Chair Elizabeth who automatically became an Ex Officio Trustee.

The Trustees under the guidance of your Trustee Geoffrey White have recently helped us to update the Declaration of Trust, we are most grateful to Geoffrey for his help.

The Trust aims to work closely with the Campden Society and we welcome and support your new Trustees and all the work that you are now becoming involved with. It is excellent that once again the Society is supporting or taking a lead in many vital issues facing our Historic Town, and being recognised as an important Amenity Society for the Town.

We have recently given a grant to the Society in support of the project for the Town Hall. This is recent so is not shown on the accounts for last year. Our finances although completely separate from the Society are required by the charity Commission to be shown on your balance sheet and presented to the Charity Commission as amalgamated accounts.

We are grateful to David Kingsmill for helping with the preparation of our accounts for this year, but in future they will be prepared by our new Treasurer Sarah Dillon. You will have received copies of the accounts and if you have any questions on the accounts or anything else I will be happy to answer them.

We look forward to a productive year giving support when necessary to the Campden Society.

Philip Smith, Trustee

For

Sally Lindner

Chairman

Campden Conservation Trust Fund.